To whom it may concern:

It is with the greatest of pleasure to supply a reference for Red Carpet Security Ltd.

Since they began supplying security services for London & Continental Railways they have proved themselves time and time again and have provided us with nothing short of exceptional levels of service, professionalism and reliability.

The celebration event to mark the completion of the Channel Tunnel Rail Link in September and the Royal Opening of St Pancras International in November of this year were our two most prestigious events to date and we have spent over 6 months working closely with Red Carpet Security, in which time they have proved their commitment and attention to detail to the projects in hand.

They have consistently provided us with security personnel who were smart, polite, courteous and represented our organisation in a highly professional manner.

I have no hesitation in recommending Red Carpet Security for any project, large or small.

Yours sincerely,

Jon Teeman
Director of Communications
London & Continental Railways Ltd.
